16 Information about the possibility of Alternative/Online Dispute Resolution

- 16.1 If you have a complaint about a good or service you have bought, instead of going to court, you can choose Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR). The term ADR includes all the ways of resolving a complaint which do not involve going to court. Typically, consumers ask a neutral

Terms of Online Purchase & Delivery of Anton Paar Slovakia s.r.o., Hattalova 12/A, Bratislava 831 03, Slovak Republic

third party to act as an intermediary between them and the trader; this neutral third party is called an ADR entity. The ADR entity can then suggest or impose a solution, or simply bring the two together to discuss how to find a solution. This is also known as “mediation”, “conciliation”, “arbitration”, “ombudsman” or “complaints’ board”. Compared with going to court, ADR is usually quicker, simpler and costs less. Online Dispute Resolution (ODR) is an ADR procedure conducted entirely online.

- 16.2 The ODR platform is a web-based platform developed by the European Commission, accessible under <http://ec.europa.eu/odr>. Its objective is to help consumers and traders resolve their contractual disputes about online purchases of goods and services out-of-court at a low cost in a simple and fast way. How does the EU ODR platform work?

The platform is user-friendly, multilingual and accessible to all. Everything is done in four, simple steps:
